GATHERING TOGETHER

There are prayer cards located in the pews. If you have a prayer request, fill out the card and pass it to the center aisle. It will be collected during the announcements.

Announcements and Welcome

Prelude: “Jesu, Joy of man’s Desiring”

J. S. Bach

Pastor Don’s time: Luke 21:25-36 (746/1636)

Video Anthem: “All Good Gifts”

John Ness Beck

Call to Worship:

Pastor: Let the righteous be joyful; let them exalt before God; let them be jubilant with joy.

People: Sing to God, sing praises to his name;
lift up a song to him who rides upon the clouds.

All: His name is the Lord- be exultant before him.

Prayer of Praise

First Reading: Isaiah 9: 6-7, 11:1-3 (489/1072)

Lori Corker

The prophet announces the coming of the Messiah to the Jews in exile.

Anthem: “A Shoot Shall Come Forth”

Richard Horn

First Narrator

David Hancock

The angel comes to Zechariah with the promise of a son. Zechariah doubts the angelic announcement and as a result must wait without words for the promise to be fulfilled. The word “angel” means “messenger.” Just as the green of nature promises life beyond the frozen winter, God sends us messengers of hope and promise in each of our lives. May we open our hearts and lives to God’s angels this Advent.

Second Reading: Luke 1:8-20 (723/1587)

Bill Bowen

The angel Gabriel appears to Zechariah and announces that his wife will bear John the Baptist. (The angel is placed)

Hymn: “Come Thou Long Expected Jesus”

#135

Third Reading: Luke 1: 26-33 (723/1588)

Dianne Weeks

The angel Gabriel appears to Mary and announces that she will bear the Messiah.

Second Narrator

Sara Lavechio

Like the never-dying evergreen, God’s love for us will last forever. The wreaths are shaped into a circle to signify the never ending reign of the Messiah. The wreath also signifies the crown- both a sign of the kingship of Jesus and a reminder that for his love of us, he wore a crown of thorns.

Fourth Reading: Isaiah 61: 1-3

Sam Bunnell

The prophet tells the healing power of the Anointed One

Third Narrator

MaryLou Hand

We cannot hear these words of Isaiah without thinking of the healing that the coming of Christ will bring. The evergreen most associated with healing in the ancient world was the mistletoe, at one time known as “all-heal.” Today it is remembered as the plant of peace. For when enemies happened to meet under the mistletoe in the forest, they threw down their arms and exchanged friendly greeting. It is in keeping with this meaning that we decorate this place of worship with mistletoe, in anticipation of the coming of the presence of the Prince of Peace.

Fourth Narrator

Steve Yates

Along with mistletoe, holly adorns our churches because, unlike most plants, it bears its fruit in winter. Holly has become a symbol of Christ’s Passion, with its prickly leaves representing the crown of thorns, the berries representing the blood he shed for us, and the bitter bark representing the drink he was offered on the cross.

Holly is placedThe Sunday School Children*Hymn: “The Holly and the Ivy”

The holly and the ivy, when they were both full grown,
Of all the trees within the wood, the holly bears the crown.

(Refrain) O, the rising of the sun, the running of the deer,
The playing of the merry organ, sweet singing of the choir.

The holly bears a blossom, as white as any flower;
And Mary bore sweet Jesus Christ to be our dear Savior. (Refrain)

The holly bears a berry, as red as any blood;
And Mary bore sweet Jesus Christ, to do poor sinners good. (Refrain)

Fifth Narrator

Meg Murray

In ancient times, the cedar was known as the tree of royalty. Today we often use cedar, along with other greens- pine, fir, spruce, juniper, and rosemary- which we prize for their fragrance, as well as their symbolism of our hope and expectation and hope of the coming of the Christ Child again. As we light our tree, we remember that Christ is ever-present, and that he is the “Tree of Life.” The lights on our tree remind us that this day Christ Child came to earth as the “Light of the World.”

Tree is litHymn: “O Christmas Tree”

O Christmas tree, O Christmas tree,
how faithful are your branches!
O Christmas tree, O Christmas tree,
how faithful are your branches!
So green when summer breezes blow,
Still green amid the winter snow.
O Christmas tree, O Christmas tree,
how faithful are your branches!

Offering

*Offertory: “Prelude in C Major”

J. S. Bach

*Doxology and Prayer of Dedication

Fifth Reading: John 1: 1-5

Chuck Robertson

*John relates to us the coming of the true LightSixth Narrator

Michael Smith

The Advent season is essentially one of light. Candles are lighted throughout the season to remind us that Jesus is “the Light of the World.” Windows in homes and churches alike are decorated with candles that burn each night. This is a very old custom that sprang from the belief that the lighted window would guide the Christ Child through the darkness to the house.

Closing Hymn: “Break Forth O Beauteous”

#158

Benediction

Postlude: “Carol Rhapsody”

Richard Purvis

please stand if able*

Children are welcome in this congregation. A nursery for those ages six and younger is available, but not staffed, during the worship hour, if your child needs a place to “let off steam.” Activity bags (in back of church) are available for other children who stay for services. Please be considerate of other worshipers if your child should become agitated, by stepping outside the sanctuary until the child is calm.

THE SERMON can be found in the literature rack in the family life center most Sundays. A few people have copies emailed to them the following week. If you would like one or like to be added to the list, contact Don.

WORSHIP LEADER: Kevin Cashman
